Translators are traitors, as the saying goes. Translators and editors of poetry, multiply so. Viplob Pratik's melodious, comforting Nepali may not translate perfectly, but there is something else, something precious in his writing that is worth the treason. He's been called "child poet" (bal kavi) in Nepal, and you will see why, Dear Reader. I can call you that, because we have connected already, because of this child poet's poems that remind us of sincerity, and our goodness, and good things. Refreshing... Elif Koksal Author, Homelike in Kathmandu Viplob Pratik was born and raised in Kathmandu, Nepal. He is a poet, a traveler, translator, and song writer. Some of his songs were recently collected in the album Reminiscence."

You can't outrun a curse ... trust me. I've tried. My heart was left shattered into a million jagged pieces. And to survive, I did the only thing I could and forced myself to play the part of the perfect girlfriend. The perfect daughter. Because no one wants someone broken. But now, the boy who owned my heart is a grown man - hardened and cold. Seeing Aidan four years later forces me to face my greatest fear, and realizing he is my fated mate only makes things worse. Secrets aren't meant to stay buried, and fate always has a plan. That's the funny thing about destiny. Right when you think everything is figured out, you get dealt a new hand. If you can't get enough of books by K.F. Breene, Kelly St. Claire, Annette Marie, Shannon Mayer, Leia Stone, Jaymin Eve, and Laura Thalassa, then you'll love this paranormal romance. Invites the reader to imagine what it would be like to live in various locations, such as a house, a jungle, and an icecap, and meet the animals that live there.

In this engaging picture book, children learn that love lasts forever, even when loved ones can't be physically present. Captivating illustrations and lyrical language pack a simple but powerful message: love can be given and received through nature. The book is intended for all children but is especially healing for children coping with separation anxiety, grief, loss or divorce.

Let your imagination explore; For the adventure has begun. Where anything is possible under the moon and sun. The poems are waiting for you to dive in. Dreaming about a sherbet colored sky is where it all begins...

Orange and purple sunsets, silvery shining moons, and a riverbank full of life. With the many plentiful resources available to her and with her creativity overflowing, Pearl should have no problem becoming any and everything her beautiful and kind heart desires. There's only one problem; with all the colorful shades of life and energy around her, she just can't seem to find her place in it at all. Nothing makes sense until, with Mama's love and the help of her dear friends, she realizes just why being anything but herself would be unfair to the world around her.

New York Times bestselling author Donna Grant ventures into New Orleans with Chiasson spinoff, the first book in her scorching LaRue series complete with sizzling romance and the enchantment of the paranormal. BROUGHT TOGETHER BY CHANCE For years, Addison Moore worked herself ragged to achieve her goals. Close to earning her degree, the contents of a shocking letter rip her world to shreds. In an attempt to forget, she wanders into a bar, unknowingly changing her life forever. Suddenly she's surrounded by the supernatural she thought only myth and stalked by an evil priestess intent on her death. Her only chance is with an enigmatic man who makes her want to forget everything just to be in his arms. BOUND TOGETHER BY CIRCUMSTANCE Myles LaRue was content owning a bar and hunting evil in the French Quarter. He wasn't looking for love, especially after the tragedy his family already experienced. But when the exquisite Addison Moore walks into his life, he can't help but be charmed. Despite the dangers surrounding them, Myles comes to one conclusion - against the odds they found each other, and now that they have, he will do whatever it takes to keep her safe.
